SUMMARY.

The position between the United States and Germany, arising out of the sinking of the Lusitania, is becoming more serious. A high official in Washington states that the situation is graver than ever, and the country should be prepared for the worst.

President Wilson is starting a national campaign on the preparedness of the land forces.

It is reported that the German Chancellor declares that Britain is the only obstacle to peace.

There have been no official peace overtures, he says, but unofficial conversations have been going on with the British and French.

There was a full moon Sunday night, but the moon was not seen in Sydney.

It is reported that the Germans continue to deny that they are displaying any resistance to attack.

A British detachment entered trenches full of German soldiers at Ypres, and the British soldiers were killed.

The French heavy artillery effectively bombarded the German fortifications at St. Quentin.

The French army was also attacked by the German forces at St. Quentin.

GERMAN CASUALTIES.

ZEPPELINS.

RAID ON ENGLAND.

AMERICA AND GERMANY.

A London message says that further news of the Somme fighting is eagerly awaited.

Mr. Warner Allen, British correspondent with the French armies, says the Germans continue to lose 200,000 men monthly, dead or permanently disabled, and their final reserves should be exhausted in August.

Turkish troops at Erzerum and Malazgirt (Turkish Armenia) are cut off from the rest of the army.

M. Culp (ex-Premier of Roumania) is reported to have gone to Vienna to ask Austria for territorial concessions in Bukovina and Transylvania.

Referring to diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany, a high American Government official says the situation is graver than it has ever been.

A New York report says that in the course of a speech in the Reichstag, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg (German Imperial Chancellor) remarked that Great Britain was the only obstacle to peace.

Zepplins dropped bombs on the eastern, north-eastern, and midland counties of England on Monday night. No great damage was reported.

THE BALKANS.

ROMANIA AND AUSTRIA.

EX-PRIMEIER'S MISSION.

Petragrad advises that M. Culp, ex-Premier of Roumania, has gone to Vienna on a confidential mission to ask Austria for territorial concessions in Bukovina and Transylvania, and to let Austria understand the necessity for giving satisfaction to Roumania.

The "Corriere della Sera" (Milan) says Culp's mission is to ask Austria for territorial concessions in Bukovina and Transylvania, and to let Austria understand the necessity for giving satisfaction to Roumania.

CHINA.

MONGOLIAN INSURGENTS.

Reuter's Peking correspondent reports that 20,000 Mongolian insurgents, armed with ample ammunition, 12 guns, and 2 quick-firing guns are marching towards Peking.

MEDICAL SERVICES.

Some criticism on the medical branch of the Commonwealth in London, by the "British Australasian," are being answered by a report which Surgeon-General Williams is preparing. The report defends the administration, contending that the only defects are matters of detail. A high French official, who recently visited Harbin, expressed the greatest satisfaction.

PEACE TALK.

GERMAN CHANCELLOR'S SPEECH.

IN THE REICHSTAG.

The "Deutsches Journal" says that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, addressing party groups in the Reichstag, remarked that there had been no official peace overtures, but unofficial conversations had taken place with Switzerland and Sweden, sixty persons without official standing being present. He believed that the war was not a war of peace, but England was compelling her allies to refrain. England hoped to succeed in her economic war, hence the war would probably last for some time.

The editor of the "Deutsches Journal," who was recently in Berlin, says that the German Emperor's military advisers fully appreciate that the determining factor in the war is the military. He declares that Germany could take Paris, and perhaps Petrograd, and drive the Allies into the sea, but that would make no difference to England. The more territory Germany occupied the thinner her lines would become, and the more that would help England.

MIDDLE EAST.

ERZERUM.

THE RUSSIAN SUCCESSES.

LONDON, Jan. 31. The Turkish troops in the Erzerum region are restricted to a narrow space, and are unable to pass the forts, owing to the Russian successes. Turkish forces at Erzerum (115 miles from the Black Sea port of Trabzon) and Malazgirt (30 miles north of Lake Van and 75 miles south-east of Erzerum) are cut off from the rest of the army.

An Athens message says that the Turkish First Army Corps at Constantinople will reinforce at Erzerum instead of Mesopotamia.

The Turkish office in denying the Turkish report that a British column was repulsed at Kurma (Mesopotamia), with 100 killed; states: "We repulsed an Arab attack at Shattra, inflicting heavy loss."

UNITED STATES.

RELATIONS WITH GERMANY.

GRAVE SITUATION.

Reuter's correspondent at New York says that unless ample satisfaction is given in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania without further evasion it is generally expected that diplomatic relations between Washington and Berlin will be broken off.

A high Government official states that the situation is graver than it has ever been, and the country should know it.

DR. WILSON'S CAMPAIGN.

President Wilson is starting a national campaign on the preparation of the defense of the United States. He is denouncing in vigorous language, and warned all Americans that the United States was too weak to resist aggression.

Speaking at Milwaukee, President Wilson pleaded for a programme of preparedness. There was not a cry, but when the world-wide peace and order were threatened, he declared that America to set her house in order.

Mr. Roosevelt is continuing to denounce American weakness, and is asking if the Americans will continue to kiss the bloody hands of murderers. Mr. Roosevelt compares Dr. Wilson to Mr. Micawber, he believed "notes" would settle anything.

FOODS IN GERMANY.

STARTLING SUBSTITUTES.

How Germany is compelled to find substitute foods is exposed in a striking article in the "Daily Chronicle." The writer, who made a close examination of the German newspapers, republishes some of the advertisements of synthetic foods, and also reveals the high prices of tea—from 25 to 30 per lb. There are various substitutes for coffee, including brown coffee, and sunflower oil replaces olive oil.

There is a wonderful array of artificial honeys. The "Berliner Tageblatt" has advertisements of three kinds of honey—solid, fluid, and powder. Jam-powder is sold in packets. There are also recipes for honey. "Two pounds sugar, half a pint of water, and a packet of sulus powder. The result is as good as best honey."

Pohl, of Berlin, offers substitute powders for eggs, sausages, and honey. A Munich paper advertises, "For fleshless days we recommend A.I. sorted stone fungus." Hundreds of advertisements of leather, imitation flannel canvas is offered. There are many advertisements of buyers offering high prices for furs.

Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent states that the German Minister of Commerce has instructed local authorities throughout the country to requisition popular slaughter houses, at which farmers kill fatted swine.

POSITION IN VIENNA.

A Zurich (Switzerland) message says that the food problem in Austria-Hungary is becoming more acute. Over 45,000 persons are receiving free meals in Vienna daily. Butter is 35 sh. 6d., margarine 25 sh. 6d., and coal 45 sh. 6d.

AFTER THE WAR.

TRADE AND EMPLOYMENT.

A great meeting was held in the Guild hall to-day to discuss trade and employment after the war. The Agents-General attended.

The Lord Mayor, Sir Charles Wakefield, said they must ensure that commercial relations with Germany were never re-established. Trade between Britain and the Dominions must be improved, and trade with our Allies must also be stimulated.

Resolutions were adopted, urging the Government and Chambers of Commerce to take immediate steps for the defence and improvement of trade.

Sir Algernon Firth (President of the Associated Chambers of Commerce) said the country must have a Ministry of Commerce.

Mr. Fisher (High Commissioner for Australia) sent the following message: "I am heart and soul in all that the meeting symbolizes."

RECRUITING.

IRELAND'S RESPONSE.

One hundred and nine thousand women have supplanted men in munition work, leaving the latter free for skilled work or the supervision of women. There are 14,000 Irishmen in the navy and army, 80,000 of whom enlisted since the outbreak of war. The wastage amounts to 100 per cent. per annum.

It is estimated that 400,000 single men have not attained. Of this number essential industries require 300,000.

GERMAN SUBMARINES.

The "Daily Mail" correspondent, who dined with the German Emperor at Nish, says he saw four small German submarines in the Golden Horn, and heard of the existence of two others. He found a submarine base cleverly hidden between two big German houses.

WESTERN FRONT.

LULL REPORTED.

THE GERMAN CASUALTIES.

NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENT'S FIGURES.

LONDON, Jan. 31. Further news of the Somme fighting is eagerly awaited. There was a lull last night, but it is evident that the Germans are not displaying that reluctance to attack which optimists expected as proof of their dwindling man power.

Mr. Warner Allen, British correspondent with the French armies, states that the Germans continue to lose 200,000 men monthly, dead or permanently disabled. They had a reserve of 800,000 in the new year, and might find 400,000 second line troops among the men already declared unfit for service. If the Germans raise the age limit to 54 years they would secure 400,000 more, and the final reserve would be exhausted in August.

FRENCH COMMUNIQUE.

BOMBING ATTACKS.

A French communiqué says: "Our heavy artillery effectively bombarded the fortifications at Stenestre bridge, damaged an ammunition on the eastern bank, and wrecked the enemy's works in the Froment district (southward of Roye)."

Another official report records only grenade attacks and artillery bombardments.

BRITISH REPORT.

General Sir Douglas Haig reports that a detachment entered trenches full of Germans on the Kemmel-Wytschate road (south-west of Ypres), inflicting forty casualties, and destroyed two machine guns.

BOMBING ATTACKS.

British and French communiqués frequently refer to bombing attacks. These are generally made by the Allies at midnight, show the trenches, beyond the dug-out, then return to our lines before a general alarm is given. The bombers have special knowledge of the German entanglements. They are assisted by large convoys of trucks, which rush in if the central party is successful with the bayonet. They bomb any Germans nearby and secure the booty.

A participant in an unsuccessful effort narrates that 25 bombers were engaged, but they could not find an opening in the entanglements. Flares lit up the darkness, machine guns began to bark, and rifles were mounted on top of the hospital train. The captain, a bomb fell at his feet. Quick as lightning he picked it up, but it exploded before he could throw it back. The captain had nine wounds, but he survived. The other 20 picked up their wounded comrades and returned. It was all over in ten minutes.

CATASTROPHE AT COLOGNE.

Travelers from Germany, who have arrived in Amsterdam, report that a catastrophe occurred on Saturday in Cologne. An express train collided with a hospital train full of wounded soldiers. The shock was terrible. The engine of the express train was wrecked, and the hospital train was overturned. Forty-seven wounded soldiers were fearfully mangled, and there were other casualties.

GERMAN REPORT.

A German communiqué says: "In reply to the air raid on the open town of Freiburg, our airships the last two nights attacked the fortress of Paris, apparently with satisfactory success."

THE BLACK SEA.

RUSSIA'S POSITION.

Reports from Odessa show that Russia has complete mastery of the Black Sea. Her warships have sunk 1500 ships, worth 12,000,000. The southern coast, eastward of the Bosphorus, is the graveyard of hundreds of Turkish ships. The Turkish fleet is in a state of panic. The engine of the express train was wrecked, and the hospital train was overturned. Forty-seven wounded soldiers were fearfully mangled, and there were other casualties.

Reuter's Odessa correspondent states that the German Minister of Commerce has instructed local authorities throughout the country to requisition popular slaughter houses, at which farmers kill fatted swine.

ZEPPELINS.

ENGLISH COUNTIES BOMBED.

LITTLE DAMAGE REPORTED.

LONDON, JAN. 31.

Seven Zeppelins raided the eastern, north-eastern, and midland counties on Monday night.

A number of bombs were dropped, but no considerable damage is reported. A despatch to the "New York Tribune" from London, which is believed to refer to the Zeppelin raid, states that 11 deaths are reported in England, due to the German restrictions, and there have been five tragedies in London streets, three of the victims being soldiers.

ATTACK ON PARIS.

If Saturday's raid on Paris, causing 25 deaths, was ominous, the second raid on Sunday was ridiculous. Then bombs were thrown, without doing any damage. The Zeppelin was bombarded and compelled to return hastily to the German lines.

The bombs which did not burst were examined in the municipal laboratory. One weighed over 2000 lb. and was charged with trinitro-toluene.

DEMONSTRATION IN BRITAIN.

A crowd of Berlin residents made a demonstration outside Count Zeppelin's house on Sunday night. The wildest enthusiasm was manifested, although Count Zeppelin was absent at the front.

ACTIVITY IN BELGIUM.

Zeppelins have been active in Belgium for upwards of a week. The trips are chiefly experimental, new craft being taken on.

MERCHANT SHIPPING.

The steamer Atholl, which left Newcastle on November 7, has arrived at London. The steamer Sussex, which left Brisbane on October 30, has arrived at London. The steamer Hawkes Bay has left London for Sydney.

STEAMER VIDAR RELEASED.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 1. The steamer Vidar has been released. A German submarine captured the Danish steamer Vidar, which was carrying provisions for England. The boat was conveyed to Swinemunde (Germany).

AMERICA'S TRADE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. The total value of the exports for the past 11 months was $430,000,000, of which $212,000,000 was to the United Kingdom, $100,000,000 to France, $20,000,000 to Austria, and $2,300,000 to Germany.

WAR NOTES.

THE WESTERN FRONT.

The news from the western front this morning indicates that the Germans have relaxed their strenuous efforts of the past few days in the districts north of Arras and down near the Somme. The engine of the express train was wrecked, and the hospital train was overturned. Forty-seven wounded soldiers were fearfully mangled, and there were other casualties.

Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent states that the German Minister of Commerce has instructed local authorities throughout the country to requisition popular slaughter houses, at which farmers kill fatted swine.

TRADE AND EMPLOYMENT.

A great meeting was held in the Guild hall to-day to discuss trade and employment after the war. The Agents-General attended.

The Lord Mayor, Sir Charles Wakefield, said they must ensure that commercial relations with Germany were never re-established. Trade between Britain and the Dominions must be improved, and trade with our Allies must also be stimulated.

Resolutions were adopted, urging the Government and Chambers of Commerce to take immediate steps for the defence and improvement of trade.

Sir Algernon Firth (President of the Associated Chambers of Commerce) said the country must have a Ministry of Commerce.

Mr. Fisher (High Commissioner for Australia) sent the following message: "I am heart and soul in all that the meeting symbolizes."

RECRUITING.

IRELAND'S RESPONSE.

One hundred and nine thousand women have supplanted men in munition work, leaving the latter free for skilled work or the supervision of women. There are 14,000 Irishmen in the navy and army, 80,000 of whom enlisted since the outbreak of war. The wastage amounts to 100 per cent. per annum.

It is estimated that 400,000 single men have not attained. Of this number essential industries require 300,000.

GERMAN SUBMARINES.

The "Daily Mail" correspondent, who dined with the German Emperor at Nish, says he saw four small German submarines in the Golden Horn, and heard of the existence of two others. He found a submarine base cleverly hidden between two big German houses.

ZEPPELINS.

ENGLISH COUNTIES BOMBED.

LITTLE DAMAGE REPORTED.

LONDON, JAN. 31.

Seven Zeppelins raided the eastern, north-eastern, and midland counties on Monday night.

A number of bombs were dropped, but no considerable damage is reported. A despatch to the "New York Tribune" from London, which is believed to refer to the Zeppelin raid, states that 11 deaths are reported in England, due to the German restrictions, and there have been five tragedies in London streets, three of the victims being soldiers.

ATTACK ON PARIS.

If Saturday's raid on Paris, causing 25 deaths, was ominous, the second raid on Sunday was ridiculous. Then bombs were thrown, without doing any damage. The Zeppelin was bombarded and compelled to return hastily to the German lines.

The bombs which did not burst were examined in the municipal laboratory. One weighed over 2000 lb. and was charged with trinitro-toluene.

DEMONSTRATION IN BRITAIN.

A crowd of Berlin residents made a demonstration outside Count Zeppelin's house on Sunday night. The wildest enthusiasm was manifested, although Count Zeppelin was absent at the front.

ACTIVITY IN BELGIUM.

Zeppelins have been active in Belgium for upwards of a week. The trips are chiefly experimental, new craft being taken on.

MERCHANT SHIPPING.

The steamer Atholl, which left Newcastle on November 7, has arrived at London. The steamer Sussex, which left Brisbane on October 30, has arrived at London. The steamer Hawkes Bay has left London for Sydney.

STEAMER VIDAR RELEASED.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 1. The steamer Vidar has been released. A German submarine captured the Danish steamer Vidar, which was carrying provisions for England. The boat was conveyed to Swinemunde (Germany).

AMERICA'S TRADE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. The total value of the exports for the past 11 months was $430,000,000, of which $212,000,000 was to the United Kingdom, $100,000,000 to France, $20,000,000 to Austria, and $2,300,000 to Germany.

WAR NOTES.

THE WESTERN FRONT.

The news from the western front this morning indicates that the Germans have relaxed their strenuous efforts of the past few days in the districts north of Arras and down near the Somme. The engine of the express train was wrecked, and the hospital train was overturned. Forty-seven wounded soldiers were fearfully mangled, and there were other casualties.

Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent states that the German Minister of Commerce has instructed local authorities throughout the country to requisition popular slaughter houses, at which farmers kill fatted swine.

POSITION IN VIENNA.

A Zurich (Switzerland) message says that the food problem in Austria-Hungary is becoming more acute. Over 45,000 persons are receiving free meals in Vienna daily. Butter is 35 sh. 6d., margarine 25 sh. 6d., and coal 45 sh. 6d.

AFTER THE WAR.
